Linus Torvalds

Creator of Linux and Git

I often compare open source to science. Science took this whole notion of developing ideas in the open and improving on other peoples' ideas. It made science what it is today and made the incredible advances that we have had possible.

What is Altronic labs?

Altronic labs is a technology incubation project sponsored by Altronic, LLC. The primary focus of the project is rapidly deploying new technologies for use in industrial control.

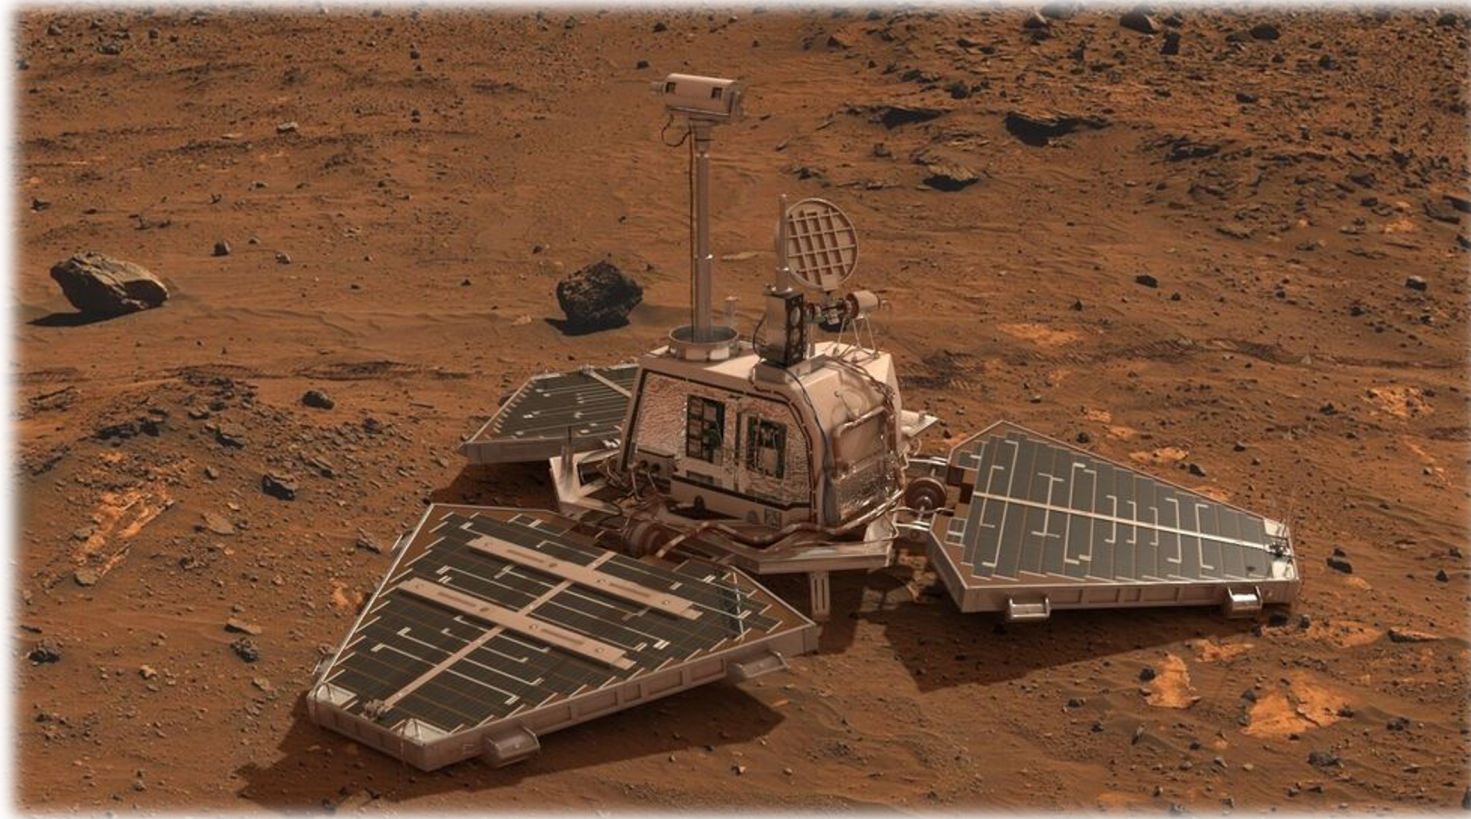

Altronic / Altronic labs commitment to open-source

Altronic & the Altronic labs project will embrace the ideals of open-source hardware and software and will release documentation, design files, and source code for projects. Altronic, LLC reserves the right to make proprietary products which incorporate some or all the Altronic labs project and will release subsequent bug-fixes and enhancements from time to time.
